ACADEMIC INFORMATION

The Five Towns College Catalog and the College's website www.ftc.edu contain the regulations, requirements, standards, policies, procedures, and general information that affect every aspect of your status and progress as a student. They should be utilized regularly as a reference tool and to learn about what is happening on campus.

This section contains specific suggestions about how you can best achieve academic success. Knowledge of study habits and techniques, awareness of the tremendous potential that lies in managing oneself, and a positive attitude coupled with enthusiasm and motivation will improve your academic performance.

At the beginning of each semester, you will be required to access the College's Learning Management System (LMS) called Canvas and preview course requirements. If clarification is needed, do not hesitate to ask your instructor to explain more fully. Regular, persistent attention to Canvas will help you to stay current in your courses and acquire valuable information about course requirements. Students are reminded to check their FTC email daily.

The items in all Course Overviews on Canvas include the following: a description of the course's content; the objectives of the course; the instructional approaches or methods to be used by the instructor; a list of requirements, including quizzes, mid-semester and final examinations, class participation, and a research paper or project in many courses; the criteria, which will be used to determine your grade; the title of the course textbook(s); the topics to be covered during each week of the semester together with the assigned readings; and an annotated course bibliography. In those courses in which research papers, projects or artifacts are required, you will also be given an assignment rubric containing guidelines.

In writing courses, your instructor will discuss with the class each of the following items: the selection of the paper or project's topic; the required length; the due date; suggestions for preparing the paper or project; formal requirements; and the criteria by which the paper or project will be evaluated. Given this information at the very beginning of the semester, you can begin to think about a possible topic, discuss its suitability with your instructor, determine if information about it is available in the library, and note the due date on your calendar.

In addition to grades on quizzes you receive before the mid-semester examination and the grades you will receive for certain class assignments (performance or written), you will be given an indication of how well you are doing in class if you receive an Individual Deficiency Report (IDR). An Individual Deficiency Report (IDR) is sent to a student and their academic advisor when an instructor is concerned about a student's performance. A midsemester grade based upon all your work through the mid-semester examination during the eighth week of the course will help you to evaluate your progress. Your instructors will also update Canvas regularly, so you can access your progress there.

To refresh your memory about the details contained in the Course Overviews and research paper or project assignment rubrics, you may want to review this content on occasion throughout the semester.

ONLINE EDUCATION

The Online Education Division at Five Towns College provides an opportunity for students to enroll in and complete several courses remotely or from a distance. A limited amount of fully online and blended courses is made available to students. At this time, the Court Reporting program is fully online. To support the online environment, online mentors may oversee these online classes to support faculty and students throughout the semester.

MEETING COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

As soon as you can, try to resolve your financial matters with the Bursar. Follow through promptly on all the regulations and procedures that are required of you if you expect to obtain funds under one of the state or federal financial aid programs. If you have a transportation or housing problem, make every effort to address it early in the semester. Seek the assistance of the Director of Financial Aid for financial issues. Difficulties of a personal nature can also stand in your way of working efficiently; please reach out to any faculty or staff for help. Academics are most important. Some suggestions to help you address those issues more effectively are included throughout this Handbook.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Satisfactory Academic Progress (S.A.P.) requirements refer to guidelines set for completing the academic degree in which a student is enrolled. If the student has not achieved 67% of his/her earned credits with a G.P.A. of 2.0 or better with 30 or more credits of completed course work, the student will be ineligible to receive State and Federal Funding and may lose any scholarships they are entitled to receive.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

Students who acquire a Grade Point Average (G.P.A.) of less than a 2.0 will be placed on academic probation. Students on academic probation are required to report to their academic advisor monthly or more often and have tutoring in the courses they have failed. Students who have accumulated two consecutive semesters of being on academic probation may be dismissed from the college. To reside in the residence halls, students must have G.P.A. of 2.0 or better.

THE WRITING CENTER

The Writing Center provides one-on-one help to all students who need help with their assignments. Located in the Library, the Writing Center is provided by the Liberal Arts faculty to assist students with assignments dealing with essays, reports, resumes as well as creative writing. Stop by or go online to connect at writingcenter@ftc.edu.

TUTORING SERVICES

Another form of academic assistance given to students who require help in their courses is the tutoring service provided by faculty and peer tutors. A student can see his/her instructors during their office hours. Students should contact their advisors for help with signing up for academic tutoring in any classes needed.

THE LIBRARY: A MAJOR RESOURCE

A trip to the FTC Library known as The Kleinman Cohen Learning Resource Center will help you to:

This collection will provide authoritative, in-depth information on any academic topic you are researching. Access to more than 6,300 full-text academic journals, most of which are peer reviewed, is available.

The library also provides access to many specialized databases, including Business Source Elite; Business Insights: Communications and Mass Media Collection; Fine Arts; Music Index; and Vocations and Careers.

Further, one copy of each College textbook is kept on reserve for use in the library only. Computers, a printer, a scanner, as well as charging stations, are available for students' use. The library staff is available to help you find and cite materials for your research. You will need your FTC ID card to check materials out of the library.

Please stop in and ask one of the librarians for assistance or feel free to email them at ftclibrary@ftc.edu with questions. They are happy to help!

HOW TO APPROACH MID-SEMESTER AND FINAL EXAMINATIONS

To plan, you should note the following about mid-semester and final examinations at Five Towns College:

- The mid-semester examination generally includes the material and skills covered in class during the first six weeks of the semester, and the final examination includes the material and skills covered since the mid-semester examination (although some professors do give cumulative final exams).
- The mid-semester examination is usually given during the seventh week of the course; the final examination is always given during the fifteenth week.
- Your professor will often tell you which types of questions to expect on these tests. In most courses, objective, short-answer, and essay questions are included in exams. In other courses, exams may focus on performances or demonstrations, such as playing an instrument, giving a speech, or acting out a scene.
- The grades you receive on these tests are a percentage of your final grade.

Between them, they can be worth up to 50% of your semester grade. The Course Overview specific to each class will list the weighted percentages.

- Mid-semester exams may be returned to you with both the examination grade and the mid-semester grade. This makes it possible for you to determine how you can improve your test-taking skills, know where you stand in the course, and seek academic support should you need it.
- Mid-semester Final Exam dates are on the Academic Calendar.

Long-Range Strategy to Prepare for Mid-semester and Final Examinations

The optimal preparation for examinations calls for a solid study program beginning with the very first day of class. Such preparation is a continuous process in which you build a mastery of the subject matter and skills from session to session. You master material and skills by completing your assignments when they are due, by getting the most out of each class session, and by reviewing what you have learned. Psychologists concur that we tend to forget and unlearn rapidly right after a learning experience. The way to keep newly learned material from slipping away is to review it right after you have learned it. Review is different from repetition: to review a topic is to “view” it again, to get a different perspective on it. You can do this in many ways, one of which is to ask yourself questions about the topic that have not been posed before.

Short-Range Strategy to Prepare for Mid-semester and Final Examinations

There is continued debate over whether “cramming” for exams is ever a good idea. Granted, cramming can never be regarded as a substitute for hard work over a long period of time, but some authorities believe that in special cases it does pay to cram, but to cram sensibly. If cramming is the only possible answer to a special situation in which the student may find himself/herself, the student should not try to learn everything but rather select some topics or areas to concentrate on.

Using your own class notes or those of a classmate and reading selected chapter summaries, you might compile a summary sheet consisting of main ideas from both the notes and text summaries. It is important to write and recite in addition to reading to make the best of such last-minute studying.

Some recommendations for preparing for examinations during the week they are given include the following:

- Discuss the subject with fellow students. Ask one another questions and supply answers.
- Give special attention to areas of the subject in which you know you are weak.
- Prepare your own objective/short-answer and essay questions with answers.
- Read, review, and recite all classroom and textbook notes.

DOING RESEARCH PAPERS, PROJECTS, AND ARTIFACTS

A research paper or other project, often counted as the artifact, is required in many courses offered at the College. As an important phase of coursework, it can count for as much as 25% of the semester's final grade. The Course Overview for the course you are taking will tell you exactly how much it is worth.

A research paper, project, or other artifact assignment can be a daunting task, even for those students who usually address daily assignments calmly and competently. However, if you break the task down into its component parts, into small units and even smaller sub-units, you need now face only one small step at a time. Thus, what appears to be challenge initially can be changed into a series of small challenges, each of which can be met comfortably.

When assigned a research paper or project, you could use the following strategy:

Lay out a schedule of work, prepare an overall time schedule to accompany this schedule, tackling each task on the schedule as if it were the first and only one to be concerned about. This focus and attitude should help you achieve your goal—a credible research paper ready to be turned in on time—with a minimum sense of discomfort and a maximum sense of satisfaction.

Books That Can Help You with Your Research Paper

The textbooks used in English Composition I and II contain materials on the research process and how to use Library resources. Other English textbooks on our Library shelves contain similar material. Further, take time to explore The Purdue Owl Online Writing Lab (OWL) website www.owl.english.purdue.edu/ where you will find guidelines for A.P.A. and M.L.A. citation. This is a must in today's technological academic environment and will help you tremendously to complete your research paper properly.

Most study skills books include chapters on the preparation of research papers and projects; some volumes address only the research paper. There are also manuals with instructions on how to use the library and its various databases and resources.

PLANNING YOUR PROGRAM

Class Schedules

The Class Schedule for the spring semester is issued in the middle of October and the course schedule for the fall semester is issued in March. The summer Class Schedule is issued in March. Schedules are available on the Student Portal.

The courses listed in the Class Schedules are selected in accordance with the recommended sequence of courses listed in the College Catalog. You should try your best to take the required courses in those semesters specifically recommended. This will be determined during meetings with your designated Academic Advisor. The Class Schedules contain the following information about each course: (1) course title and number; (2) section; (3) number of credits the course bears; (4) day, time, and room number; and (5) name of the instructor.

Preparing a Program

You will receive assistance in the preparation of your program for your first semester at the College from the Academic Advisement Office. As a continuing student, you must prepare your program for the second and subsequent semesters in consultation with your Academic Advisor.

REGISTRATION TIME!

The Importance of Prompt and Accurate Registration

Registering promptly will ensure admission to classes before they are closed because of size, which does occur on occasion. Current students, after a certain date, are subject to a late registration fee and could lose a tuition lock, if applicable. These dates are published in the Five Towns College Catalog and on the College website.

Preparing for Registration

Review your Advising Worksheet for the sequence of courses recommended for your degree as well as the descriptions of the courses you are thinking of taking. Verify this information with your Academic Advisor. Discuss the content of the next level course(s) in your field of interest with your professors. Consult with your Academic Advisor regarding your next semester's program. You will need his/her written approval at the time of registration.

Registration Procedures

1. Check the courses you wish to take on a Course Schedule for Students up to the maximum number of credits for which you wish to register. A full-time program generally consists of 15- 17 credits. For official purposes, such as financial aid, full-time status is defined as 12 or more credits.
2. Check the Class Schedule on the Five Towns College website. Enter your courses on a Schedule Worksheet to be certain that there are no conflicts in your schedule.
3. Complete the Initial Registration Form. Have your Academic Advisor check the form for accuracy, and then, indicate his/her approval by signing and dating the Registration Form.
4. Go to the Registrar's Office with your Registration Form.
5. Go to the Financial Aid Office to complete any outstanding application forms and submit requested supporting documentation.

Changing or Withdrawing from Classes

Students who withdraw from a course(s) are required to notify their Academic Advisor, secure his/her approval, and complete an official Schedule Change for the class. Students may withdraw from courses without penalty prior to Final Examinations. During this time, he or she will receive a "W," which is not computed in the grade point average. A student who is not attending class and who has not filed an official Schedule Change will be assigned a grade of "WU" (Unofficial Withdrawal), this is equivalent to an "F".

Withdrawing from classes or from the College may impact financial aid eligibility and satisfactory academic progress. Students must maintain a minimum enrollment of half-time (6 credits) to be eligible for financial aid each semester. The effects of withdrawing on financial aid include funds being revoked, loss of future funding, account balances due to the College, length of time to complete degree and increased debt. Students are encouraged to consult with the Financial Aid Office prior to dropping, withdrawing, or adding classes.

Financial Aid Questions to Consider Prior to Dropping Classes or Withdrawing from

College

- When my financial aid package was complete was it based on full-time enrollment, and after I drop the class, will I still be considered full-time?
- Did I drop after the last day permitted to receive a refund of my tuition?
- Will any of my financial aid funds have to be returned?
- Will I owe the College money?
- How will dropping a class or withdrawing effect my Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)?
- Have I taken this class previously and if so, was it completed even with an “F” grade?
- How much have I borrowed in federal and private loans? Will I have enough aid to cover future semesters?

Knowledge about your degree requirements, College rules, regulations, and Financial Aid guidelines, will help you stay on track for graduation with minimal debt.

STUDENT LIFE

An essential part of your college experience is what happens outside of the classroom. You will need to involve yourself in activities that will: (1) Enable you to share your interests with others; (2) Explore new social interests; (3) Provide opportunities to capitalize on your talents; (4) Encourage you to socialize with your peers; (5) Afford you an opportunity to develop and exercise leadership skills; and (6) Make it possible for you to work with other students and faculty members on College-wide issues and projects.

The Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association (SGA) serves as the representative governing body for all students enrolled at Five Towns College. The mission/purpose as stated within the SGA Constitution, in part, provides:

We, the Student Government Association, elected by the students of Five Towns College, hereby draft this document to advocate students’ rights, facilitate communication between administration, faculty, staff, and student body. It is also our goal to promote the qualities of justice, leadership, and integrity, and to better the Five Towns College community, and the community in which we live.

The purpose of SGA is:

- a. To act as official representatives of the student body.
- b. To ensure communication between the student body, administration, faculty, and staff.

- g. To submit an end of the year report from the Executive Board and Senate to the President of the College, the administration, and all faculty and staff.

- h. To perform any additional duties necessary and proper to the fulfillment or activation of the functions contained in the SGA Constitution.

The SGA works closely with all other governance groups of the College to ensure the realization of the mission and goals of the institution.

Campus Activities Board (CAB)

The Campus Activities Board (CAB) works closely with the Student Activities Coordinator and the Office of Campus Events to plan student-led events and activities for the College community. Students can join in a variety of executive officer and event support positions. CAB will propose and plan events, solicit feedback from the campus community for interest in activities and lead these events.

College Committees

Students are invited to participate in the work of selected College Standing Committees. A minimum of two students serves on the Advisory Committee on Campus Safety. This is a very important committee comprised of students, faculty and staff under NYS Education law section 6431.

This committee reviews current campus security policies and procedures and makes recommendations for improvement. The advisory committee on campus security reviews current policies and procedures for: (a) educating the campus community, including security personnel and those persons who advise or supervise students, about sexual assault, domestic violence and stalking offenses pursuant to Art. 129-B § 6432 and bias related and hate crimes pursuant to § 6436, (b) educating the campus community about personal safety and crime prevention; (c) reporting sexual assaults, domestic violence, stalking incidents and hate crimes and assisting victims during investigations; (d) referring complaints to appropriate authorities; (e) counseling victims; and (f) responding to inquiries from concerned persons. The committee reports in writing to the college president on its findings and recommendations at least once each academic year and is available report upon request.

Students are selected and encouraged to serve on and participate in additional Standing and Ad-hoc Committees.

Office of Campus Events

The Office of Campus Events serves as a resource for students to participate in co-curricular learning that supports student development, integration, diversity, and encourages our institutional mission of nurturing life-long learning. With the support of the institutional community, the Office of Campus Events facilitates opportunities through its range of services and programs to develop a student's educational, vocational, and personal identity and achievement. Get involved and have fun!

Office of Public Safety

Public Safety Officers are available 24/7 to keep the campus safe and secure. Students who find themselves in need of emergency or other protection should not hesitate to contact the FTC Public Safety Office, located in the Main building or call (631) 656-2196.

Personal safety and security are a concern and responsibility of everyone. Some things you can do to help yourself, fellow students, faculty/staff are: (1) Don't prop open outside doors-these doors are closed to prevent others from entering and leaving campus so that the Office of Public Safety can safety monitor the area; and (2) Report all incidents to Public Safety, faculty, or staff. They are here to help!

The Campus Safety Committee monitors safety conditions and ensures compliance with applicable Federal and State campus security regulations. In accordance with the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990, and the Amendments under the Campus Sexual Violence (SaVE) Act, and Section 304 of the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA) of 2013, the College collects information, which is available to all students/employees and the public and is reported in the Annual Campus Security & Fire Safety Report with Clery statistics to the U.S. Department of Education and posted here: www.ftc.edu/publicsafety. The Campus Safety Committee provides, upon request, all campus crime statistics as reported to the United States Department of Education.

The Campus Safety Committee acts in an advisory capacity for the College's compliance with the requirements of the N.Y.S. Education Law, Article 129-B, Enough is Enough. At regular monthly meetings, issues related to onboarding, ongoing education and related topics are reviewed, discussed, and followed.

Canvas

Canvas is the College's Learning Management System (LMS) and online course platform aimed at providing class content to students. This includes announcements, notes, forums, online tests, and a grade book. Students are required to check Canvas on a regular basis for the classes they are enrolled in. To login to Canvas, go to: <https://fivetowns.instructure.com/> Your username is the same as your FTC email. For assistance, please send an email to support@ftc.edu. For the AY 2022-23, Canvas will be the institution's platform for Student Learning Assessment, which will be used for assigning, collecting, and assessing student work or artifacts, which evidence student learning.

Email

Five Towns College provides every student with an email address. Students are required to use this appropriately and with acceptable use. You must check your Five Towns College email on a regular basis. Important messages, news updates, and correspondence with faculty and staff will be sent to you via the Five Towns College email. You may access your email through the College's website. Your username and password are the same as for Canvas. College policy restricts faculty and staff from corresponding with you through your personal email due to privacy requirements. All emails/correspondence must be through your college email address.

STUDENT LEARNING ASSESSMENT (SLAP) STANDARDS

The College's SLAP is designed conceptually as a hierarchical structure. At the apex of the Plan is each degree program. Next, each program is categorized by a number of competency areas, termed “Proficiencies.” Each Proficiency designates an important aspect of learning for a particular degree. For the B.F.A. in Film and Television, the Proficiency might cover “Cinematography,” or the ability to capture images of professional quality, and with these images reflect the mood, vision, and goals of the director of the Film and Television project by controlling composition, lighting, and exposure. Each of the Proficiencies required in a Degree Program or for General Education is deemed critical to acquire for any graduating student.

Next in the hierarchical structure is a Learning Standard established for each Proficiency. The Learning Standard indicates the types of specific behaviors or performance expected of a student in a required course in order to demonstrate that a student has been able to minimally meet the level of aptitude required for the Proficiency. Learning Standards are behavioral, objective, and measurable so that they do not leave much latitude for variability in an instructor’s judgment of whether a standard has been or has not been met. An example of a “Learning Standard” for the Proficiency “Oral Communication” is that a student must “Develop a meaningful and effective voice in order to deliver a well-organized, content-rich, and articulated public presentation.”

In each required course for a Proficiency, a student must provide a specified document, final examination, presentation, research paper, project, or other type of material. This material is submitted electronically through Canvas, is evaluated by the appropriate division faculty, and becomes evidence to determine if the student has met the Learning Standard. The required material to document the attainment of a Learning Standard is referred to as the Artifact. Artifacts are stored electronically in Canvas, the College’s Learning Management System.

Rather than evaluating an Artifact with only traditional grades (e.g., “A,” “B,” etc.), faculty employ a Rubric. The Rubric is a scaled evaluation tool that contains categories with numerical rankings (1-5), descriptive headings (Unacceptable, Emerging, Proficient, Target, and Exceeds Expectations), and descriptions of the quality of work that govern the evaluation given. To score the Artifact, the faculty choose the numerical scoring category that best describes the Artifact.

For a matriculated student to be awarded a degree from Five Towns College, she/he must satisfy all of the General Education Proficiency requirements along with all of the Program Proficiency requirements for their specific Degree Program.

Any questions or concerns about this can be directed to the College Provost, the Director of Institutional Research and Assessment or the College’s Canvas Administrator.

This inoculation is mandatory for all Residence Hall students. Proof of vaccination for Covid-19 is required for all residential students. Check the College's website for any Public Health Bulletin updates.

Attendance

Each student is expected to attend classes regularly and be on time to achieve maximum benefit from educational programs. Students are responsible for all missed class work regardless of the reasons for absence. Excessive, unexplained absence will result in a lowered grade especially when it affects participation in class activities. Absence from more than twenty percent of the total class meetings of a course may result in a failing grade. Please adhere to requirements stated in College Catalog.

Class attendance is a vital part of your class grade. You may contact your instructor via Canvas or email to explain your absence and to check assignments. If long-term absences are anticipated due to illness, hospitalization, or accidents, contact the Dean of Students Office so that you can submit documentation of the issue. The Dean of Students will contact your instructors once documentation has been received.

The College strives diligently to address, appease, and engage in conversation with students and employees in a positive and productive way. Students and employees having concerns related to social media use, other online communications and/or face-to-face communications should feel free to approach the Dean of Students, Provost, Director of Residence Life, Public Safety Office, or other College personnel to have these concerns resolved.

Further, the College prohibits cyberbullying and online harassment of all types and content. This type of misuse of electronic devices or communication or engagement on social media and in the virtual environment is seriously discouraged and will be disciplined appropriately.

Students and employees should reflect upon comments posted on social media and make every attempt to engage in a positive way, always considering the ramifications of what is said in a public forum, and the potential impact certain behaviors may have on career/professional endeavors. Communications found to violate the Code of Conduct will be subject to disciplinary process.

Theft/Vandalism

Theft or vandalism of college property and/or property of a member of the College community will not be tolerated. The College is proud of its library materials, musical instruments, audio and film/video equipment, theater arts props, and other resources. While it has implemented procedures to lend these items for students' use, students are responsible to ensure that College property is handled carefully and returned in a timely fashion to avoid disciplinary action and/or charges to their account.

Use of Electronic Devices: Classroom, Required Consent

Technology, including smartphones, cell phones, tablets, laptops, etc. must be properly authorized for classroom use. Unauthorized use of electronic or other devices to make an audio/video recording of any person (instructor, student, or staff member) without consent is prohibited. Further, students and employees must obtain the required consent prior to posting any media content in the virtual environment, including on social media. Students should be respectful and honor individuals requests not to post and/or confirm that the requisite consent is obtained.

Mobile and/or cell phones and/or other devices that have audio/video recording capabilities are not to be used in restrooms or locker rooms. Every reasonable effort must be made to respect the personal space and privacy of other members of the College community or guests to the College.

Students and employees should not misuse the College's IT systems (computers, networks, telephones). Prank, threatening or harassing calls, texts, emails, misuse of social networking sites, or any inappropriate face-to-face, online, or virtual messages are entirely prohibited. Further, it is not permitted to use the College network for any unlawful activity, such as illegal file sharing or buying/selling weapons or drugs. Hacking or otherwise dishonest accessing of college accounts or other sensitive or confidential information is prohibited.

There is no expectation of privacy on the College network by users and students/employees should keep that in mind as they use electronic devices on campus.

All personal files should be deleted from the College computers and your account logged out. Any use of the College technology and resources for personal use or financial gain can lead to disciplinary action.

Visitors/Guests to the College

Students and employees desiring to have visitors or guests on campus must follow College procedures. Parents and other family members fall into this category.

Visitors and/or guests to the College require proper authorization and should wear a Visitor's Pass. To be granted access, visitors and/or guests must bring proper identification to the Public Safety security desk, be signed in, and wear a Visitor's Pass until they exit the campus. Visitors/Guests being on campus is a privilege and will not be permitted if there is no legitimate educational purpose for the visitor, is abused, or in any way may jeopardize the institution's operations. As such, the College reserves the right to deny access to any visitor/guest on campus.

Residential Students seeking authorization to invite day visitors and/or guests on campus should follow the policies and procedures stated in the Residence Life Handbook. In any instance, when security at the front entrance is unavailable, visitors and/or guests should go to the Public Safety entrance, sign in and seek access after showing proper identification.

Commuter students who are guests of residence hall students must follow all policies and procedures that resident students are held to abide. Further, any guest or visitor on campus is expected to be made aware of the Code of Conduct by his or her host. Both host and visitor/guest may be held responsible for any infractions of the Code of Conduct. Visitors/guests must be with the host at all times. The College reserves the right to suspend visitor/guest policies at any time in the interest of keeping the campus safe and secure.

Academic Misconduct

Academic Misconduct includes, but is not limited to, face-to-face and/or online dishonesty, and/or unethical behavior that violates academic standards expected of Five Towns College students and employees such as cheating on an examination, plagiarizing, submitting work from another course (unless receiving prior approval to do so), using complete or partial information from Internet sources without citing and giving proper credit, improper citation, taking a test for or completing an assignment for another student, working collaboratively on homework assignments or take-home exams (unless instructed to do so by the professor), and the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI), including ChatGPT and/or any other technology not permitted or any other conduct that is inappropriate for students in attendance at an institution of higher education.

In either case - plagiarism or cheating - the penalty may be a failing mark in the particular activity or examination. Should there be a repetition of either, the student is subject to failure in the course, and dismissal from the College. Academic misconduct will result in disciplinary action and/or appropriate sanctions depending on the facts of each case.

Judiciary Process and Procedures

Students and employees in violation of the Code of Conduct are subject to penalties, such as, but not limited to: Warning, No Contact Letters, Probation, Suspension, Community Service, Restitution, or Expulsion, depending on the facts of each case, the evidence submitted, and the findings of the appropriate decision-making body, including the Judicial Board, Dean of Students, Director of Residence Life, Provost, or designee or other judicial body. Other sanctions appropriate to the individual circumstances may also be imposed. In some cases, students may be required to pay restitution to the College or others.

An administrative decision may require that a student or employee follow particular instructions or refrain from engaging in certain conduct or behavior. Failure to follow this instruction may result in a request to immediately leave the campus. A refusal to obey an instruction given as to conduct and/or behavior shall be grounds for immediate judicial action. If, in the judgment of the College administration, continued attendance by the individual charged with misconduct will endanger the safety and well-being of the individual and/or members of the College community, the student may be suspended from the College until the judicial hearing is conducted. Also, the following procedures shall be followed:

- 1) The student(s) or employee(s) receives notice of a Code of Conduct violation (preferred notice is FTC email; then, in-person, phone, or text, as appropriate);
- 2) A judiciary hearing is held before a panel consisting of faculty and/or administrative personnel who will review the documentation, interview all involved parties, and ask appropriate questions as they relate to the incident;
- 3) At the hearing, the student(s) or employee(s) may present a written statement or state his/her case orally;
- 4) The Judicial Board and/or other judicial body will notify, in writing, the student or employee of the findings, determination and/or penalties and decision;
- 5) An appeal to the Provost is permitted within three (3) days as long as the reason for the appeal is based upon (i) new evidence; (ii) a belief that the decision was based on erroneous fact or conclusion of law; or (iii) was arbitrary or capricious.
- 6) The decision of the Provost or his/her designee is final.

Grievance Procedure

Generally, as pertains to students/employees, and this Code of Conduct, a grievance is defined as a charge that a student/employee believes he/she has been adversely affected in a direct, personal, and material way by a decision or action of another individual. Such a dispute may involve another student, faculty, College administrator, or a staff member. There are two ways to resolve a grievance-informally and formally. These procedures are set forth below:

Informal:

A student/employee who believes he or she has been personally aggrieved by a staff or faculty member in a matter dealing with his/her coursework or the carrying out of a college regulation should first seek to resolve the problem through discussion or email with the individual involved.

If speaking with the individual, i.e., staff or faculty, does not bring a resolution, students/employees are encouraged to contact the Department/Division Chair. Should further assistance be needed, the Dean of Students Office or the Office of the Vice President of Finance and Administration should be consulted.

Formal:

Filing a resolution of the matter informally, the student/employee may then file a formal complaint with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students, Associate Dean of Students/Director of Residence Life, or appropriate designee will investigate this complaint. The student/employee may be asked to provide additional information and/or the results of such investigation will be forwarded to the complainant. Students/employees are assured that no adverse action will be taken as a result of filing a complaint. If the student/employee remains dissatisfied with the decision reached at this level, he/she may appeal within three (3) days to the Provost or his/her designee for redress.

In some instances, depending on the nature of the grievance, the Provost or his/her designee has the discretion to assemble a panel of three members, including staff, faculty, or students to review the facts, informal decision, and may request additional investigation, hearing, or supplemental documentation. In any event, the decision of the Provost or his/her designee, including panel, is final.

All formal complaints in the form of Incident Reports should be filed through the Public Safety Office. Depending on the nature of the grievance, the above procedures will be followed. If the alleged complaint potentially falls under the ambit of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 or the N. Y. S. Education Law, Article 129-B, or the N.Y.S. Sexual Harassment Prevention law, the particular policies and procedures adopted and promulgated thereunder by the College will take precedence and be followed. In such instance, the matter will be forwarded to the attention of the Five Towns College Title IX Coordinator. The FTC Sexual Misconduct Policies and Procedures are located here: <https://www.ftc.edu/nys-education-law-article-129-b/?preview=true> and https://www.ftc.edu/wp-content/uploads/2014/09/FINAL-Title-IX.7.27.18_links-1.pdf.

Student Complaints

A Student Complaint relates to an incident, concern, or institutional process at the College that does not necessarily fall under the definition of a grievance as stated above but is a matter of fact that a student would like to present for administrative attention. To do so, a form entitled “Student Complaint” is provided in the Dean of Students Office. Individuals who have a matter that warrants institutional attention should complete this form and submit it there. More information is here: <https://www.ftc.edu/current-students/>

Applicable Laws, Ordinances and Regulations on Sex Offenses

Because the commission of a sexual offense is a criminal matter, Article 130 of the New York State Penal Law makes the commission of a sexual offense punishable by imprisonment. You should also be aware that sexual misconduct, unconsensual sodomy, sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault and rape are punishable under the law and may have penalties of fines, imprisonment, or both.

College Procedures for Dealing with Sex Offenses

- Any incidents of sex discrimination or sex-based harassment and/or sexual misconduct that occur on campus should be reported immediately. Students consulting with the Five Towns College Counseling Center are assured of confidentiality under the law. Reports made to the Five Towns College Public Safety Office and the Title IX Coordinator or any of the Title IX Deputies are kept as private as is practicable under the provisions of N.Y. S. Education Law, Article 129-B and/or Title IX of the Education Law Amendments of 1972.
- Any allegation of sex discrimination or sex-based harassment and/or sexual misconduct levied against a member of the Five Towns College student body or member of its faculty or staff shall be handled pursuant to the regulations promulgated under N.Y.S. Education Law, Article 129-B and/or Title IX, above, and which have been adopted and published by the College and posted on its website. Students are urged to familiarize themselves with those regulations/policies of the College.
- They can be found here: https://www.ftc.edu/wp-content/uploads/2014/09/FINAL-Title-IX.7.27.18_links-1.pdf.
- Students, faculty, or staff members charged with or convicted of sex offenses shall be immediately suspended from the College, and, pending the outcome of trial, subject to judicial proceedings, all consistent with state and/or federal law.

The Counseling Center provides confidential services to all members of the Five Towns College community. In addition, the Family Violence & Rape Crisis Center/ECLI-VIBS and The Crime Victims Center provides counseling, advocacy, and related services all without cost to victims. These services should be used whenever needed. In some cases, victims and/or reporting individuals may be referred to an outside health care professional or can refer to the 24/7 Resources/Where to Get Help provided herein.

NYS EDUCATION LAW, ARTICLE 129-B (SECTIONS 6439-6449): SEXUAL ASSAULT, DATING VIOLENCE, DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND STALKING PREVENTION AND RESPONSE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

In July 2015, N.Y. S. Governor Andrew Cuomo signed the “Enough is Enough” law. This legislation is intended to communicate and provide definitions, require education and training, and articulate policies and procedures aimed at addressing sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking prevention and response. Five Towns College has adopted and implemented the regulations under Article 129-B of the Education Law, as required. Provisions of the statute can be found here: <https://www.ftc.edu/five-towns-college-enough-enough/> Regularly throughout each semester, education and training about this law will be offered on campus. Please take the time to learn and become educated to help prevent these acts from happening.

- As a general statement, Five Towns College does not tolerate acts of harassment or sexual assault and will discipline perpetrators as provided by institutional policy, state, and federal law. Thus, sexual harassment or sexual assault, as defined herein, and as stated in Article 129-B and Title IX, is, in any form, unacceptable behavior.

- Affirmative Consent, as defined in Article 129-B, is a knowing, voluntary, and Mutual decision among all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create clear permission regarding willingness to engage in the sexual activity. Silence or lack of resistance, in and of itself, does not demonstrate consent. The definition of consent does not vary based upon a participant's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.
- Consent to any sexual act or prior consensual sexual activity between or with any party does not necessarily constitute consent to any other sexual act. Consent is required regardless of whether the person initiating the act is under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol. Consent may be initially given but withdrawn at any time.
- Consent cannot be given when a person is incapacitated, which occurs when an individual lacks the ability to knowingly choose to participate in sexual activity. Incapacitation may be caused by the lack of consciousness or being asleep, being involuntarily restrained, or if an individual otherwise cannot consent. Depending on the degree of intoxication, someone who is under the influence of alcohol, drugs, or other intoxicants may be incapacitated and therefore unable to consent.
- Consent cannot be given when it is the result of any coercion, intimidation, force, or threat of harm. When consent is withdrawn or can no longer be given, sexual activity must stop.
- Students, faculty, and staff are required to act and conduct themselves with mutual respect for all members of the College community, so the campus is a safe and secure work and academic environment. Any reports of conduct deviating from the expectations under this Code of Conduct will be taken seriously and vigilantly.
- Sexual harassment, in part, is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, oral or written communications or physical conduct of a sexual nature. This type of behavior by any member of the college community is in direct violation of college policy, is unacceptable, and must be reported. Students found to have engaged in such conduct shall be dismissed from the College and/or other appropriate action will be taken.

Members of the College community are advised that confidential resources are available from the Five Towns College Counseling Center and from off-campus Crisis Hotlines available 24/7 and referenced under 24/7 Resources: Where to Get Help. Further, FTC has entered a Memorandum of Understanding with the Family Violence and Rape Crisis Center a/k/a/ Victims Information Bureau of Suffolk County (ECLIVIBS) and The Crime Victims Center and confidential counseling and resources are available there. All other communications with College Administrators, Public Safety Officers, faculty, or other personnel are afforded as much privacy as is practicable as provided under local, state, and federal law.

Alcohol and/or Drug Use Amnesty Policy

The health and safety of every student at Five Towns College is of utmost importance. Five Towns College recognizes that students who have been drinking and/or using drugs (whether such use is voluntary or involuntary) at the time that violence, including but not limited to domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault occurs may be hesitant to report such incidents due to fear of potential consequences for their own conduct. Five Towns College strongly encourages students to report domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault to institution officials. A bystander acting in good faith or a reporting individual acting in good faith that discloses any incident of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault to Five Towns College officials or law enforcement will not be subject to Five Towns College Code of Conduct action for violations of alcohol and/or drug use policies occurring at or near the time of the commission of the domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault. Further, depending on the facts of any incident, the College may provide amnesty in additional circumstances. (Article 129-B, section 6442)

Evidentiary Standards in Disciplinary, Grievance, N.Y.S. Education Law, Article 129-B, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and Federal/State Penal Codes

Students/employees should be apprised of the different standards applied to the evidence submitted in various instances by the appropriate judicial bodies when making decisions.

For complaints, charges, or incidents that fall under the Five Towns College Code of Conduct and may be general discipline or grievance matters, the preponderance of the evidence standard is applied or a more likely than not standard based on the evidence submitted.

For complaints, misconduct, or reports that may fall under the Five Towns College Code of Conduct and may be deemed to be either sexual harassment, sexual assault, or any type of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and/or sexual assault, the standard applied is a preponderance of the evidence standard.

For criminal conduct, violent crimes etc. subject to the Penal Codes, a beyond the reasonable doubt will be applied by the local, state, or federal governing body but this is outside the scope of Five Towns College.

Further, students are advised that, in some instances, if certain conduct is deemed to be a violation of the Code of Conduct and treated as a judicial matter, that is a separate proceeding from any other proceeding being investigated in accordance with the College's Title IX/Enough is Enough policies and procedures and/or as a criminal matter subject to investigation by police or other investigation outside of the institution's judicial scope.

Additional Information About NYS Education Law, Article 129-B

Five Towns College adopts and publishes for its constituents, the following additions as required under NYS Education Law Article 129-B, as part of its Code of Conduct, and as part of its policies and procedures, generally, and incorporates by reference relevant sections and definitions that fall under the Annual Campus Safety Report, including the Clery Act provisions of the Higher Education Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act, and which apply if potential conduct is deemed to fall under its provisions and occurred either on campus, off campus, or while studying abroad.

- The right to request that student conduct charges be filed against the accused in proceedings governed by this article and the procedures established by the institution's rules.
- The right to a process in all student judicial or conduct cases, where a student is accused of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual activity that may otherwise violate the institution's code of conduct, that includes, at a minimum: (i) notice to a respondent describing the date, time, location and factual allegations concerning the violation, a reference to the specific code of conduct provisions alleged to have been violated, and possible sanctions; (ii) an opportunity to offer evidence during an investigation, and to present evidence and testimony at a hearing, where appropriate, and have access to a full and fair record of any such hearing, which shall be preserved and maintained for at least five years from such a hearing and may include a transcript, recording or other appropriate record; and (iii) access to at least one level of appeal of a determination before a panel, which may include one or more students, that is fair and impartial and does not include individuals with a conflict of interest. To effectuate an appeal, a respondent and reporting individual in such cases shall receive written notice of the findings of fact, the decision, and the sanction, if any, as well as the rationale for the decision and sanction. In such cases, any rights provided to a reporting individual must be similarly provided to a respondent and any rights provided to a respondent must be similarly provided to a reporting individual.

Throughout proceedings involving such an accusation of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual activity that may otherwise violate the institution's Code of Conduct, the right:

- For the respondent, accused, and reporting individual to be accompanied by an advisor of choice who may assist and advise a reporting individual, accused, or respondent throughout the judicial or conduct process including during all meetings and hearings related to such process. - To a prompt response to any complaint and to have the complaint investigated and adjudicated in an impartial, timely, and thorough manner by individuals who receive annual training in conducting investigations of sexual violence, the effects of trauma, impartiality, the rights of the respondent, including the right to a presumption that the respondent is "not responsible" until a finding of responsibility is made pursuant to the provisions of this article and the institution's policies and procedures, and other issues including, but not limited to domestic violence, dating violence, stalking or sexual assault.
- To an investigation and process that is fair, impartial and provides a meaningful opportunity to be heard, and that is not conducted by individuals with a conflict of interest.
- To have the institution's judicial or conduct process run concurrently with a criminal justice investigation and proceeding, except for temporary delays as requested by external municipal entities while law enforcement gathers evidence. Temporary delays should not last more than ten days except when law enforcement specifically requests and justifies a longer delay.
- To review and present available evidence in the case file, or otherwise in the possession or control of the institution, and relevant to the conduct case, consistent with institution policies.
- To exclude their own prior sexual history with persons other than the other party in the judicial or conduct process or their own mental health diagnosis and/or treatment from admittance in the institution disciplinary stage that determines responsibility. Past findings of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault may be admissible in the disciplinary stage that determines sanction and procedures.

- To receive written or electronic notice, provided in advance pursuant to the college or university policy and reasonable under the circumstances, of any meeting they are required to or are eligible to attend, of the specific rule, rules or laws alleged to have been violated and in what manner, and the sanction or sanctions that may be imposed on the respondent based upon the outcome of the judicial or conduct process, at which time the designated hearing or investigatory officer or panel shall provide a written statement detailing the factual findings supporting the determination and the rationale for the sanction imposed.
- To make an impact statement during the point of the proceeding where the decision maker is deliberating on appropriate sanctions.
- To simultaneous (among the parties) written or electronic notification of the outcome of a judicial or conduct process, including the sanction or sanctions.

- To choose whether to disclose or discuss the outcome of a conduct or judicial process.
- To have all information obtained during the course of the conduct or judicial process be protected from public release until the appeals panel makes a final determination unless otherwise required by law.
- For crimes of violence, including, but not limited to sexual violence, defined as crimes that meet the reporting requirements pursuant to the federal Clery Act established in 20 U.S.C. 1092(f)(1)(F)(i)(I)-(VIII), institutions shall make a notation on the transcript of students found responsible after a conduct process that they were “suspended after a finding of responsibility for a code of conduct violation” or “expelled after a finding of responsibility for a code of conduct violation.” For the respondent who withdraws from the institution while such conduct charges are pending, and declines to complete the disciplinary process, institutions shall make a notation on the transcript of such students that they “withdrew with conduct charges pending.” Each institution shall publish a policy on transcript notations and appeals seeking removal of a transcript notation for a suspension, provided that such notation shall not be removed prior to one year after conclusion of the suspension, while notations for expulsion shall not be removed. If a finding of responsibility is vacated for any reason, any such transcript notation shall be removed.

Five Towns College has close association with existing community-based organizations, including rape-crisis centers and domestic violence shelters and assistance organizations, to refer students for assistance or make services available to students, including counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, and legal assistance, which may also include resources and services for the respondent. In particular, the College has entered a Memorandum of Understanding with the Family Violence & Rape Crisis Center/Victims Information Bureau of Suffolk (ECLI-VIBS) and The Crime Victims Center in Ronkonkoma, NY to provide FTC students with all these services. These resources are provided under 24/7 Resources: Where to Get Help and students should familiarize themselves with it.

Further, the College strives to ensure that students have access to sexual assault forensic examiner (SAFE) and a sexual assault nurse examiner (SANE) and VIBS provides this as well.

Campus Climate Assessments (Section 6445)

As required under NYS Education Law, Article 129-B, section 6445, it is the policy of Five Towns College to conduct, no less than every other year, a campus climate assessment to ascertain general awareness and knowledge of the provisions of this article, including student experience with and knowledge of reporting and college adjudicatory processes, which shall be developed using standard and commonly recognized research methods.

The assessment shall include questions covering, but not be limited to, the following:

- the Title IX Coordinator's role;
- campus policies and procedures addressing sexual assault;
- how and where to report domestic violence, dating violence, stalking or sexual assault as a victim, survivor or witness;
- the availability of resources on and off campus, such as counseling, health and academic assistance;
- the prevalence of victimization and perpetration of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault on and off campus during a set time period;
- bystander attitudes and behavior;
- whether reporting individuals disclosed to the institution and/or law enforcement, experiences with reporting and institution processes, and reasons why they did or did not report;
- the general awareness of the difference, if any, between the institution's policies and the penal law; and
- general awareness of the definition of affirmative consent.

Five Towns College will take steps to ensure that answers to such assessments remain anonymous and that no individual is identified. The results of the surveys will be published on the website provided that no personally identifiable information or information which can reasonably lead a reader to identify an individual shall be shared.

Information discovered or produced as a result of complying with this section shall not be subject to discovery or admitted into evidence in any federal or state court proceeding or considered for other purposes in any action for damages brought by a private party against the College, unless, in the discretion of the court, any such information is deemed to be material to the underlying claim or defense.

Options for Confidential Disclosure (Section 6446)

In accordance with Article 129-B, Section 6446, Five Towns College ensures that reporting individuals have the following:

- (a) Information regarding privileged and confidential resources they may contact regarding domestic violence, dating violence, stalking or sexual assault;
- (b) Information about counselors and advocates they may contact-on and off-campus regarding domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault;
- (c) Confidentiality and Five Towns College offices and employees who cannot guarantee confidentiality will maintain privacy to the greatest extent possible. The information provided to a non-confidential resource will be relayed only as necessary for the Title IX Coordinator to investigate and/or seek a resolution;
- (d) Further, if a reporting individual discloses an incident to an institution employee who is responsible for responding to or reporting domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault but wishes to maintain confidentiality or does not consent to the institution's request to initiate an investigation, the Title IX Coordinator must weigh the request against the institution's obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all members of its community. The institution shall assist with academic, housing, transportation, employment, and other reasonable and available accommodations regardless of reporting choices;
- (e) Information about public awareness and advocacy events, including guarantees that if an individual discloses information through a public awareness event such as candlelight vigils, protests, or other public event, the institution is not obligated to begin an investigation based on such information. However, the College may use the information provided at such an event to inform its efforts for additional education and prevention efforts;
- (f) Information about existing and available methods to anonymously disclose including, but not limited to, information on relevant confidential hotlines provided by New York state agencies and not-for-profit entities;
- (g) Information regarding institutional crime reporting including, but not limited to: reports of certain crimes occurring in specific geographic locations that shall be included in the institution's annual security report pursuant to the Clery Act, 20 U.S.C. 1092(f), in an anonymous manner that identifies neither the specifics of the crime nor the identity of the reporting individual; that the institution is obligated to issue timely warnings of crimes enumerated in the Clery Act occurring within relevant geography that represent a serious or continuing threat to students and employees, except in those circumstances where issuing such a warning may compromise current law enforcement efforts or when the warning itself could potentially identify the reporting individual; that a reporting individual shall not be identified in a timely warning; that the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, 20 U.S.C. 1232g, allows institutions to share information with parents when (i)

there is a health or safety emergency, or

(ii) when the student is a dependent on either parent's prior year federal income tax return; and that generally, the institution shall not share information about a report of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault with parents without the permission of the reporting individual.

- (h) The institution may take proactive steps, such as training or awareness efforts, to combat domestic violence, dating violence, stalking or sexual assault in a general way that does not identify those who disclose or the information disclosed.
- (i) If the institution determines that an investigation is required, it shall notify the reporting individuals and take immediate action as necessary to protect and assist them.

The institution should seek consent from reporting individuals prior to conducting an investigation. Declining to consent to an investigation shall be honored unless the institution determines in good faith that failure to investigate does not adequately mitigate a potential risk of harm to the reporting individual or other members of the community. Honoring such a request may limit the institution's ability to meaningfully investigate and pursue conduct action against an accused individual.

Factors used to determine whether to honor such a request include, but are not limited to:

- (1) Whether the accused has a history of violent behavior or is a repeat offender;
- (2) Whether the incident represents escalation in unlawful conduct on behalf of the accused from previously noted behavior;
- (3) The increased risk that the accused will commit additional acts of violence;
- (4) Whether the accused used a weapon or force;
- (5) Whether the reporting individual is a minor; and
- (6) Whether the institution possesses other means to obtain evidence such as security footage, and whether available information reveals a pattern of perpetration at a given location or by a particular group.

These factors are included on the Title IX Intake Worksheet posted here: https://www.ftc.edu/forms/intake_documents_titleIX.pdf and students should be familiar with this prior to and/or before a report is made.

Student Onboarding and Ongoing Education (Section 6447)

To comply with Article 129-B, section 6447, Five Towns College does the following:

1. The College has adopted a comprehensive student onboarding and ongoing education campaign to educate members of the institution's community about domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault, in compliance with applicable federal laws, including the Clery Act as amended by the Violence Against Women Act reauthorization of 2013, 20 U.S.C. 1092(f). The Education Law 129-B codifies some of the education and training requirements of the Clery Act, 20 U.S.C.

1092(f)(8)(B) and 34 C.F.R. §658.46 (j) as amended by the Violence Against Women Act relating to primary and ongoing prevention and awareness programs while providing plain language and consistent requirements for colleges to implement those federal requirements. In addition to programs presented by VIBS, Five Towns College strives to work together and with statewide and local organizations to develop and offer interesting and useful trainings. Also, the College may see strong results by calling on students, faculty, staff, and community members to assist in developing tailored programming and for student leaders and athletes.

2. Five Towns College provides all new first-year and transfer students training on the following topics, using a method and manner appropriate to its institutional culture. This includes summer Orientations, and training in sexual assault prevention during new student Orientation, Professional Development Day, Student Leadership retreats, and at many other times during the semester. The College, consistent with its best practices and culture, develops a series of programs over the course of the new student experience to further its onboarding requirement under the law. These are some of the included topics:

- (a) The institution prohibits sexual and interpersonal violence and will offer resources to any victims and survivors of such violence while taking administrative and conduct action regarding any accused individual within the jurisdiction of the institution;
- (b) Relevant definitions including, but not limited to, the definitions of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, confidentiality, privacy, and consent;
- (c) Policies apply equally to all students regardless of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression;
- (d) The role of the Title IX Coordinator, university police or campus security, and other relevant offices that address domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault prevention and response;
- (e) Awareness of violence, its impact on victims and survivors and their friends and family, and its long-term impact;
- (f) Bystander intervention and the importance of taking action to prevent violence when one can safely do so;
- (g) Risk assessment and reduction, including but not limited to, steps that potential victims, perpetrators, and bystanders can take to lower the incidence of violations, which may contain information about the dangers of drug and alcohol use, including underage drinking and binge drinking, involuntary consumption of incapacitating drugs and the danger of mislabeled drugs and alcohol, the importance of communication with trusted friends and family whether on-campus or off-campus, and the availability of institution officials who can answer general or specific questions about risk reduction; and
- (h) Consequences and sanctions for individuals who commit these crimes and code of conduct violations.

3. Five Towns College will train all new students, whether first-year or transfer, undergraduate, graduate, or professional.

4. Five Towns College will use multiple methods to educate students about violence prevention and shall share information on domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual assault prevention with parents of enrolling students.

5. Five Towns College will also share information on sexual and interpersonal violence with parents of students. This is accomplished in several ways. One way is by providing information directly to parents, either by mail or to parents attending programming on occasion. Another method that is used is that Five Towns College posts information on the Parents webpage here: <https://www.ftc.edu/for-parents/> and on the Enough is Enough webpage <https://www.ftc.edu/enough-is-enough/>.

6. In compliance with section 6447, Five Towns College offers to all students general and specific training in domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual assault prevention and conducts a campaign that complies with the Violence Against Women Act, 20 U.S.C. 1092(f), to educate the student population. The College, as appropriate, provides or expands specific training to include groups such as international students, students that are also employees, leaders, and officers of registered or recognized student organizations, and online and distance education students. The College also provides specific training to members of groups that the institution identifies as high-risk populations.

7. Further, Five Towns College requires that each student leader and officer of student organizations recognized by or registered with the institution, as well as those seeking recognition by the institution, complete training on domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault prevention prior to receiving recognition or registration, and requires that each student athlete complete training on domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault prevention prior to participating in intercollegiate athletic competition. This training is offered in addition to the training offered as onboarding to incoming students.

Reporting Aggregate Data to the Department (Section 6449)

In compliance with Article 129-B, section 6449, Five Towns College understands its responsibility as stated below:

1. Institutions shall annually report to the department the following information about reports of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual assault:

- (a) The number of such incidents that were reported to the Title IX Coordinator.
- (b) Of those incidents in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the number of reporting individuals who sought the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- (c) Of those reporting individuals in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, the number of cases processed through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- (d) Of those cases in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, the number of respondents who were found responsible through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- (e) Of those cases in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, the number of respondents who were found not responsible through the institution's judicial or conduct process.

- (f) A description of the final sanctions imposed by the institution for each incident for which a respondent was found responsible, as provided in paragraph (d) of this subdivision, through the institution's judicial or conduct process.
- (g) The number of cases in the institution's judicial or conduct process that were closed prior to a final determination after the respondent withdrew from the institution and declined to complete the disciplinary process.
- (h) The number of cases in the institution's judicial or conduct process that were closed because the complaint was withdrawn by the reporting individual prior to a final determination.

GUIDE TO A DRUG-FREE CAMPUS

Five Towns College maintains a zero-tolerance policy regarding any drug or alcohol violations on campus. In fact, the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees is prohibited. Federal Trafficking Laws for drug usage have been revised and the link is included below. Students needing assistance and support should consult with the Counseling Office.

In compliance with the Federal Drug Free Workplace Act, Five Towns College is committed to addressing the problems of alcohol and other substance abuse on the College campus. The College adheres to its alcohol policy and does not sponsor activities on or off campus where alcohol will be served. Violation of the College alcohol policy will not be tolerated. Further, in compliance with The Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act and the U.S. Department of Education's supporting regulations, Five Towns College adopts and implements programs "to prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by all students and employees on school premises or as part of any of its activities" (EDGAR Part 86 Subpart A 86.3).

Applicable legal sanctions under federal, state, or local laws for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol may be found at Title 21 US Code 801 et. seq.; New York State Penal Law 220-221; and New York State Public Health Law § 3306.

For the most recent and complete Federal Trafficking Penalties information, visit the website of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration at www.dea.gov/agency/penalties.htm.

In compliance with the federal statute, a description of the health risks associated with the abuse of alcohol or use of illicit drugs includes this excerpt from What Works: Schools Without Drugs:

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increases the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening.

Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver. (U.S. Department of Education, 1992; retrieved from: <http://www.higheredcompliance.org/resources/resources/dfscr-hec-2006-manual.pdf>)

A list of drug and alcohol programs (counseling, treatment, rehabilitation, and re-entry) that are available to employees or students is available at the Five Towns College Counseling Center. Further, online resources can be found at the National Institute on Drug Abuse: <http://www.nida.nih.gov/>

Five Towns College will impose disciplinary sanctions on students and employees for violations of these standards of conduct, including any of the sanctions mentioned herein, up to and including, expulsion or termination of employment and referral for prosecution.

N.Y. Penal Law, Article 220, Controlled Substances, carries severe penalties for drug violators who sell or use controlled substances ranging from one year in prison to life. See <http://ypdcrime.com/penal.law/article220.htm#p220.00> for the full text. No special privileged status is granted to students, and it is expected that all students will abide by the law or be subject to its penalties. Counseling and referral programs will be available for those students or persons who need this type of assistance.

New York State Alcoholic Beverage Control Law

The Amendments to sections 65-b and 65-c of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law ("ABC" Law) provide:

Effective January 1, 1990, 1) Persons under the age of 21 are prohibited from possessing any alcoholic beverage with intent to consume the beverage. Exceptions are provided for consumption in an instructional setting and in cases where the alcoholic beverage is provided by a parent or guardian.

Violators are subject to a fine of up to $50.00 per offense but are not subject to arrest. If alcoholic beverages are involved in alleged violations of this law, authorized law enforcement officials will seize them.

Effective November 1, 1989, 2) Persons under the age of 21 who present falsified or fraudulently altered proofs of age for the purpose of purchasing or attempting to purchase alcoholic beverages are guilty of a violation, punishable by a fine of up to $100.00 and a community service requirement of up to thirty (30) hours. Previously, violations of this section were punishable only by the imposition of a one- year probationary period and a fine.

Effective October 19, 1989, 3) A person under the age of 21 who presents an altered

New York State driver's license for the purpose of illegally purchasing an alcoholic beverage may be subject to a suspension of that driver's license for up to ninety (90) days, and may also be required to apply to the Department of Motor Vehicles for a restricted use driver's license following the suspension.

CAMPUS SECURITY AND SAFETY

Campus security and safety is the responsibility of the Public Safety Office which is open and operating 24/7 and available to assist students as needed. Please refer to the section under Public Safety for more information about campus security and safety.

Missing Persons Policy

Five Towns College takes student safety very seriously. To this end, the following policy and procedures have been established concerning students who live in on-campus housing who, based on the facts and circumstances known at the time to FTC officials, are presumed and/or determined to be missing.

Most missing person reports in the College environment result from students changing their regular routines without informing roommates, friends and/or family members of the change. For purposes of this policy, a student will be presumed missing, if a roommate, classmate, faculty member, friend, family member or other campus person has not seen or heard from the student in a reasonable amount of time.

In general, a reasonable amount of time is 24 hours or more but may vary with the time of day and information available regarding the missing student's daily schedule, habits, and reliability. Students will also be considered missing immediately, if their absence has occurred under circumstances that are suspicious or cause concerns for their safety.

Anyone who believes that a student who lives in on-campus housing is missing should report his/her concern immediately to Campus Security. Missing student reports can be made to the Security Supervisor or any Security Officer.

At the beginning of each semester, Residence Hall staff will inform students residing in on-campus housing that an official from FTC will notify the appropriate law enforcement agency and the parent/guardian (if the student is under 18 years of age and not emancipated) within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing.

At the beginning of each academic year, students living in on-campus housing will be asked to provide, on a voluntary basis, confidential emergency contact information in the event they are reported missing while enrolled at FTC. The contact information will be registered, and the information will be accessible only to authorized campus officials, and may not be disclosed, except to law enforcement personnel, in furtherance of a missing person investigation. This emergency information will be gathered and/or updated each semester by the Office of Residence Life.

FTC will follow these general notification procedures for a missing student who resides in on-campus housing:

1. Any and all official missing person report(s) relating to students residing in on-campus housing shall be referred immediately to the Residence Life and the Public Safety Office/Campus Security.
2. The official receiving the report will try to collect and document the following information:
 - a. The name and relationship of the person making the report.
 - b. The date, time, and location the missing student was last seen.
 - c. Description of the student, clothes last worn, where the student might be, who the student might be with, vehicle description, information about the physical and mental well-being of the student, an up-to-date photograph, class schedule.
 - d. The general routine or habits of the suspected missing student (e.g., visiting friends who live off-campus, working off-campus) including any recent changes in behavior or demeanor.
 - e. The missing student's cell phone number (if known by the reporter).
 - f. Every missing student report will be followed up with an investigation to determine the validity of the missing person report. Once FTC receives a missing student report, the following officials/offices may have a need to know and be informed: President's Office; Provost's Office; Dean of Students; and Director of Residence Life.

If Public Safety/Campus Security, after investigating the official report, makes the initial determination that the student subject of a missing person report is missing, the processes listed below will be followed: (1) Public Safety/Campus Security will notify the appropriate law enforcement agency within 24 hours of the determination by Public Safety/Campus Security that the student is missing. (2) If the student is under 18 years of age and not an emancipated individual, the Dean of Students or his/her designee will also notify a custodial parent or within 24 hours of the determination by Public Safety/Campus Security that the student is missing.

Upon notification from any entity that a student who resides in on-campus housing may be missing, Five Towns College may use any or all of the following resources to assist in locating the student:

- 1) Contact the student via e-mail or phone.
- 2) The Director of Residence Life and staff may be asked to assist in physically locating the student by keying into the student's assigned room and talking with known associates.
- 3) Security may search campus locations to find the student and utilize the student's ID picture for assistance in obtaining pertinent information.
- 4) Staff and/or Public Safety/Campus Security will contact roommates, floor mates, known friends, family, faculty members or advisors to seek information on last sighting or additional contact information.
- 5) Staff and/or Public Safety/Campus Security will check the student's social networking sites (e.g., Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, Snapchat, etc.).
- 6) Security may access security camera and video recordings to determine last sightings of the missing student.

- 7) Security may access vehicle registration or license information for vehicle location and distribution to authorities.
- 8) Information Technology staff may be asked to research last login and use of FTC systems (e.g., e-mail, network, Canvas, etc.).
- 9) If there is any indication of foul play or an immediate safety/security concern, the appropriate law enforcement agency will be notified.

Five Towns College considers these requirements of investigations of felony offenses and missing student's policy crucial to the welfare and safety of the College community. Therefore, all Public Safety Officers are well versed in the procedures and all College constituents are informed as to the severity of timely reporting.

Notification of this policy is distributed to the entire College community. It is included on the FTC website, discussed during the beginning of term at mandatory Residence Hall meetings, discussed at Student Orientation, and included in the annual Campus Security Report. Faculty and staff are advised during professional development workshops.
